JOURNAL
OF THE
House of Representatives
OF THE
Seventieth General Assembly
OF THE
STATE OF ILLINOIS

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1957, 12:00 M.

At a regular session of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, begun and held at the Capitol in the City of Springfield, at 12:00 o'clock noon, on Wednesday next after the first Monday in January, the same being the 9th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1957, pursuant to the provisions of Section Nine (9), Article Four (4) of the Constitution of the State of Illinois.

The Honorable Charles F. Carpentier, Secretary of State, called the House to order and presided over its deliberations until the election of a temporary presiding officer, as provided by the Constitution.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Milton Heitzman, of the First Congregational Church, of Beardstown, as follows:

"Our Father, Creator of Nations and of Nature, look upon us in this moment of quiet as we wait upon the threshold of a new session. Help each of us to examine our way.

When we are not strong enough, help us to have renewed strength. When we are not wise enough, give us real wisdom. When we are not patient enough, give us real patience.

O Lord, give us the strength to match the stately pines of Oregon. Let us be as solid as the unrelenting granite of Giant City.

As we look at our State, we ask that Thou will give us men to match the prairies—calm, deep, abundant with goodness.

In the session, O Father, help these chosen leaders to have insight more than hindsight; help them to know what they are for as well as against. Help them to speak to be heard wisely, rather than to fill a ringing silence.

And now we ask Thy blessings to rest upon that which they are about to do—

May it be honest

May it always be courageous

May it meet the test of time.

Amen."

The Secretary of State designated Fred W. Ruegg as provisional clerk and George Wilson as provisional doorkeeper, pending the temporary organization of the House, and directed Mr. Ruegg to call the roll of Representatives-elect of the Seventieth General Assembly compiled as follows from the official returns on file in the office of the Secretary of State:

The committee heretofore appointed to wait upon the Governor appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives, accompanied by the Governor, who, after being presented to the joint session, personally delivered his message to the Joint Assembly, as follows, to-wit:

"MR. SPEAKER, MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY AND FRIENDS:

"Since the turn of the century, the custom has developed that a Governor who is succeeding himself does not present his program twice within one week to the General Assembly. I will therefore postpone my presentation until the inauguration ceremonies next Monday. However, I wanted to attend this opening day session to join you in what I believe is the commencement of one of the most historic and significant sessions of our legislature in the last 50 years.

"As we meet here today, it is the first time in half a century that the legislature has convened as a body which is truly representative of the entire state. Our work, yours and mine, will be measured by the yardstick of progress in solving the peoples problems. Those problems are numerous and complex as befits a state already large in population and still expanding. You now have an opportunity to provide positive solutions to many local concerns throughout the state as well as to renew and finance the exercise of the powers of the various governmental departments. The 70th General Assembly is composed of many new members. I especially want to express my best wishes to you in person today and to point out that we have high hopes for the work of the new membership combined with the experience of the older members. I believe a great opportunity exists for an outstanding session, that the scope of your achievements will mark this session as one of the most successful in the history of the state. It is a high honor to welcome you here today and to assure you we will look forward with pleasure to working with you for a better and better Illinois."

The Governor having concluded his message, the committee heretofore appointed escorted him from the hall of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 2:20 o'clock P. M., Senator Peterson moved that the Joint Assembly do now rise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session. The Speaker in the chair.

MR. SPEAKER, MR. PRESIDENT, MEMBERS OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, DISTINGUISHED GUESTS:

In all Illinois history, few governors have been granted the opportunity presented here today. No man in such a position could be insensible to the sacred trust conferred, or fail to comprehend the exacting duties which the office demands.

The past four years have witnessed many progressive developments, yet there remains much to be accomplished. The ordinary administrative functions of government require continual readjustment and improvement. The expanded programs brought about by the needs of a growing population and higher standards of service assume ever larger importance legislatively and administratively.

Many problems, large and small, will compete fiercely for our attention. Every effort should be made to adapt existing procedures to their solution but whenever called for we should not hesitate to evolve modern machinery of government to meet the complexities of a new age.

Many of the recommendations made in the inaugural address four years ago have been put into effect. The same is true of the requests made in my message to the Sixty-ninth General Assembly. Naturally, I am gratified to have seen these things accomplished and I am proud of the advances made in many fields of statewide endeavor both private and governmental. We are happy to see the upturn in the mining industry, the record production by our farmers, the record high employment and improved working conditions, the prosperous state of business and expansion of industry, and the attraction of so many people to live and work in Illinois.

All these things are fundamentally important to an overall progress of the state but the subjects on which I am addressing you today are those which require particular action or broadly affect all of the citizenry.

FINANCE

This is neither the time nor the occasion to enter into a detailed discussion of the state's financial needs. A thorough plan will be specified in the budget message some three months hence. However, the broad outline of financial condition and policy can be presented at this stage.

Increasing requirements for education, public assistance, health and welfare programs, and municipal governments made it necessary to provide more revenues in the 69th General Assembly. The revenue made available to the cities through granting them the power to impose a $\frac{1}{2}$ cent sales tax has proved ample, and that problem will not be with us at this session. A similar increase in the sales tax was provided for state purposes. The budget has remained balanced with resources during the biennium and quite properly could be maintained so in the ensuing biennial period were it not for two principal factors—(1) demands for larger grant-in-aid funds to support the elementary school and relief programs, and (2) an imperative need for a greatly expanded capital outlay for higher educational and welfare institutions.

The growth in the grant programs to a considerable extent is the effect of a rapid population rise, inflationary forces, and greater state participation. We might as well face up to the necessary cost of these programs, but we cannot afford to condone slipshod and costly methods of administration fostered by selfish interests or competing authorities. Neither can we continue to compound inequity by blithely adding on expensive state subsidy while ignoring wasteful or unfair practices at the local level. I will comment more fully on this situation in the sections on education and public assistance.

A combination of circumstances accounts for our critical need in the institutional and educational building fields. The decline in building during the war years, obsolescence and inadequacy of existing structures, the sharp rise in postwar construction costs, and an enormous expansion in the number of young people expecting to attend college have all contributed to our problem. There can be little argument that our present progress is scarcely able to catch up with past needs at a time when the looming challenge of the immediate future is upon us.

Current revenues, even if considerably augmented by higher taxation could not be expected to provide the great accumulation of funds in time to meet the exigency of our situation. I therefore recommend the passage of a $236,000,000 bond issue to be submitted to the people for their approval. Supplemented by our current building program this bond financing should make it possible to modernize our present facilities and provide a reasonable progress toward sufficient new buildings. The state architect's division in the past two years has prepared a very useful analysis of the state's building requirements.

Failure to ratify the Revenue Amendment makes it obvious that, for the present at least, we will be forced to operate generally under the existing tax system. This fact does not preclude improvements but rather calls for an even more intense drive to correct the weaknesses and inadequacies under the present article.

I shall oppose any tax increase which is not specified for school or welfare purposes. In no case will I consider any tax increase even for these worthy causes unless the conditions complained of are rectified. Increases in cost of the ordinary processes of state government are not such as to warrant any general rise in taxation at this time.

EDUCATION

One of our highest responsibilities, and certainly the one carrying the greatest potential for the future well-being of the people, is to make suitable provision for the education and training of our youngsters. This fruitful task takes on an added urgency in this period of rapid growth in school population and astounding increase in so many fields of knowledge. I will make recommendations concerning higher education in a separate section.

During the Sixty-ninth General Assembly session we made great strides forward in meeting the problems of our elementary schools. An increase of more than $60,000,000 was provided for the general distributive fund. In the face of skyrocketing enrollments the state government was still able to pay—undiminished—its share of school costs. But over and above this accomplishment we were able more nearly to equalize educational opportunities throughout the state by raising the standard from $173 per pupil in an average daily attendance to $200. How fully and carefully the educational needs were estimated for the biennium is seen in the fact that about $500,000 will be turned back rather than having the usual deficiency of several million dollars in this fund.

We might note that one part of the state school aid program is based on flat grants and the other part is supposedly based on need (in other words inability to pay locally). However, when the need formula is used as an excuse by some communities and their officials to shirk their duties then a fraud has been committed against the taxpayers of the rest of Illinois as well as depriving children of needed educational facilities. I therefore concur in the recommendation of the School Problems Commission that the State equalize assessments by applying multipliers to townships rather than to counties. There are other aspects of the school system which require attention at this session. However, over and above any adjustments or refinements in operation, there emerges the clear call to provide your children and mine the best that education has to offer.

HIGHER EDUCATION

While we have been preoccupied with the compelling problem posed by the post war spurt in elementary school population, a similar overflow of students has been making ready to burst upon our institutions of higher learning. The Higher Education Commission estimates that in the next twenty years college enrollments in Illinois will be more than doubled. There is a strong indication that this situation will occur in some of our institutions in less than half that time.

The demands of higher education place a somewhat different claim on the state's finances than the needs of the elementary system. Privately endowed colleges and universities provide more than half the facilities for Illinois students, but the remainder attend institutions which are state supported, and built and operated by state revenues. Unlike the elementary schools which are built by local resources and given supplemental grants for operation, the public colleges (excepting junior colleges) require a large capital outlay from state funds. In the very near future these state operated schools of higher learning will need the enormous sum of nearly $165,000,000 to enlarge facilities enough to care for the anticipated load of the next few years. You can readily understand the necessity for obtaining this capital at the earliest opportunity. The question of operating costs will be dealt with in the budget message.

Suggestions for coordination of the programs of the public institutions of higher education in Illinois have been proposed over the years. They have varied from a plan to combine all the institutions into a single university structure under a single board of control to a plan for a coordinating council made up of representatives of the present governing boards. A number of states have established machinery for centralized control and administration, but the plans and experiences vary widely. From the experiences in other states and the analysis of the unique requirements of our own, it is clear that there is no simple answer to the question of how best to articulate the present programs in several institutions and how best to plan for the growth that is sure to come.

At the same time, it is recognized that since the future prosperity and welfare of the State are in large part dependent upon how adequately the State supports its educational institutions and how effectively they fulfill their mission, and since costs will increase significantly, nothing less than the best in planning and administration is tolerable.

Within these general concerns, some two years ago the Governor appointed, and subsequently the General Assembly participated in the establishment of, a temporary Higher Education Commission. The Commission was asked to examine the needs and resources of the State for higher education, particularly in the light of the projected enrollment growth, and to make pertinent recommendations.

The Higher Education Commission will render its report during the current session of the Legislature.

Apart from the specific recommendations of this special Commission on Higher Education, it is apparent from the work already done that the existence of a permanent advisory Commission for the Study of Higher Education could make an important contribution to the coordination of existing programs and be an effective agency in advising on plans for the State as a whole, its regions, and its institutions.

Such a Commission, charged to make studies in higher education, would provide the Legislature, the officers and commissions of state government with objective, staff-prepared information which would be helpful in making decisions affecting more than one institution. At the same time the individual institutions would not be limited in presenting their recommendations through existing channels and the present control over the institutions would not be disturbed.

The members of the Commission should be civic leaders not identified with any institution in any official capacity or with state government. The Commission would be given funds for a professional staff.

Each of the present governing boards would be expected to appoint a delegate from among its members to attend all meetings of the Commission and its committees and to have the privilege of debate and discussion.

The members of the Commission would be appointed by the Governor, on a bipartisan basis, with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The recommendations of the Commission to the Governor, the General Assembly, and the governing boards of the state institutions of higher education would serve to inform the public as to the needs of higher education as a whole and bring facts, issues and plans into public discussion. Equally important, the Commission for the Study of Higher Education would give the State an agency for over-all appraisal and planning in higher education in a way no existing department or agency is prepared to serve.

HIGHWAYS

On June 29, 1956, President Eisenhower signed into law the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956. This law, providing for a long range Federal expenditure of $27 billion for new roads, is the largest public works enterprise in history.

The effect of this law has already been reflected in the highway activities of this State. In the last six months of 1956, following the effective date of the Federal Act, we have expended funds against these Federal appropriations in excess of $24 million. Work uncompleted and carried over at the end of 1956 amounts to $59 million.

The primary highway construction program of the State for 1957, in a total amount of $220 million, has just been released. This represents approximately 100% increase over the 1956 program. Programs for subsequent years will continue to increase annually.

The vast size of these programs, and the demand for speed in their execution, has intensified certain problems which will occupy the attention of my administration.

- A. The technical staff of the Division of Highways must be strengthened in order to properly expedite and supervise the enlarged highway programs. Scarcity of trained engineers, the intense competition with private employers for their services, and the many vacancies occurring from death and retirement, are all factors in a situation which must be dealt with if Illinois is to carry on promptly and fulfill its obligations under the new program.
- B. The legislature is requested to review our present statutes, particularly those concerned with the acquisition of right-of-way to determine whether modifications are necessary to properly expedite the program.
- C. While at first it may seem that our greatest problem is the execution of an enormous construction program, this is not entirely the case. Programs utilizing Federal-aid grants under which we must plan our work, impose a severe strain upon the State's fiscal capacity to finance other necessary highway work and expenditures including:
 1. The many miles of State primary highways, not on the Federal-aid system, which must be reconstructed and rehabilitated outside of the Federal-aid programs.
 2. The costs of maintenance and traffic control, for which Federal continue to increase in the future as more miles of roads are funds are not available, have increased in the past and will built. There are also always the demands for increased safety, requiring elaborate and costly traffic control devices; for more comfort requiring smoother riding surfaces on all roads—old and new; well-groomed right-of-way, properly mowed and landscaped. These create increased costs for maintaining the highways after initial construction.
 3. A substantial increase in the cost of operating an adequate state highway police force.

The toll highway program is well into the construction stage. Nearly half of the building contracts have been awarded and the remainder will be let within the next five months. The first earth was turned near Rockford last September.

The evident progress of this vast project gives assurance that communities in the congested area of northeastern Illinois will be served many years ahead of what could be expected by ordinary methods of financing and piecemeal construction.

The wisdom of securing these bond funds at the time we did is clearly demonstrated by the national trend toward higher interest rates and a more restricted credit picture.

HIGHWAY SAFETY

The most grievous problem facing the people of Illinois has to do with the unholy butchery of men, women, and children on our highways. Not only does this situation result in pain and sorrow and death, but a heavy economic burden is imposed as well. All motorists are forced to pay higher insurance rates, there is expensive destruction of property, and great loss in earning power.

Briefly the solution lies in better roads, driver improvement, and enforcement. I have already discussed the road program. The driver improvement phase has shown a definite advance based on the installation of a more effective driver's licensing system vigorously carried through by Secretary of State Carpentier. It is to the enforcement aspect that I address myself briefly here today. More particularly I am referring to better means of enforcement by the state government itself.

Many of our cities including the largest, Chicago, have made excellent progress in cutting down the accident and death rates. They have shown what can be accomplished with more police and determined enforcement.

I am convinced that, with more strict limits on speed, more appropriate penalties for violators, and more adequate manpower for enforcement, decided progress can be made in this battle to save lives on the state's highways. Therefore, I earnestly recommend statutory limits on speed, punishment commensurate with the careless or wilful disregard of life, and the addition of at least 600 officers to the state police force.

I expect to deliver a more detailed exposition of this problem to you very shortly.

MENTAL HEALTH

The mental health problem is being pursued on several fronts. In this biennium research and medical treatment have been intensified. The change-over to a forty hour work week has been completed at all institutions. More attendants have been employed and merit increases granted. Work was started last fall on the new research and training hospital in Chicago while construction at Tinley Park should bring that facility into operation by next year.

The problem of modernizing the many antiquated buildings and providing badly needed additional space for retarded children and the aged calls for a considerable amount from the bond issue already proposed.

The General Assembly is aware of the elaborate program required to improve the care and treatment of the nearly 50,000 wards of the state. Definite progress has been made, but much more remains to be accomplished in the way of more technical staffing, payment of adequate salaries and increased training.

PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

The following figures from 1955, which are the latest available, show that States with public assistance problems somewhat similar to ours require a considerably higher local contribution to public assistance programs than in Illinois:

(percent local contribution) Illinois 8.6%, Wisconsin 33.6%, Indiana 29%, Michigan 21.8%, and New York 31.1%.

That same year, Illinois with 54.8% made the second highest contribution from State Funds to the Public Assistance programs among all the 48 states. It is evident that a disproportionate share of assistance costs is being borne by state revenues. An alarming situation exists whereby, in the midst of record years of high employment and general prosperity, in the last two bienniums huge deficiency appropriations were imperative to meet sharply rising public assistance costs.

We recognize, of course, that inflation resulting in loss of the dollar's purchasing power has had an effect in this field as well as others. There is no question that the people are desirous of adequate care for the unfortunate and disabled. But, it appears that the time has arrived for a thorough legislative inquiry into this subject at both community and state levels.

FISCAL REFORM

I recommend a thorough overhaul of fiscal operations and procedures based on the following principal points:

1. Establishment of budget and supporting appropriations on an annual instead of a biennial basis. This system would require an annual session of the legislature. Obviously, the preparation of the budget would be on a much more realistic basis with less chance involved for over-estimation or deficiencies. There is an added advantage in having the legislature take more frequent looks at needs and expenditures, thus providing a better check on overall fiscal policies.
2. Reorganization of departmental fiscal functions. This recommendation involves the existing state offices of Auditor, Treasurer and Department of Finance, as well as creating a new department of Financial Institutions. The presently constituted office of Auditor of Public Accounts would be replaced by an official whose exclusive function would be the post audit of all state agencies. This Auditor General, appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, must be professionally qualified. The auditor would be independent of any other administrative functions or responsibilities.

The State Treasurer would be solely responsible for disbursing state funds. He would receive and be accountable for the safekeeping of all state funds. The Treasurer would be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate.

The method of selecting the Treasurer and Auditor entails two changes. At present they are directly elected or, in the case of vacancies, appointed by the Governor without legislative confirmation.

The Department of Finance would assume the pre-audit and general financial supervision over all administrative agencies. This would have the effect of centralizing the controller function in this office. Administration of the state property control act should also be transferred here. A new Department of Financial Institutions would be created, headed by a director to be appointed by the Governor. The private financial institutions now supervised by the Auditor and the small loan companies, regulated by the Department of Insurance, would be brought under the jurisdiction of this new agency.

Only the Treasurer, of all these department heads just mentioned, now carries a large fidelity bond. I recommend that the bonds of all fiscal officers be increased in view of the greatly enlarged financial operations of the state government. Furthermore, I suggest that the two officers directly concerned with private financial establishments, namely the State Treasurer and Director of Financial Institutions be restricted by law from holding a personal financial interest in businesses subject to their control. This plan of reorganization is distinguished by the separation of the principal fiscal functions of pre-audit, post audit, and disbursing into three different departments.

3. Establishment of uniform fiscal procedures for all state administrative agencies in line with those already established for departments directly under the Governor's supervision. Such matters as bidding, purchasing, letting of construction or other contracts, notification to and review by the Finance Department, methods of reporting, inventory control and surplus property handling all come within this category.

It will be seen that a large part of the foregoing recommendations can be accomplished by direct legislation while it will take constitutional amendments to effect the remainder. Consequently, the program presented divides itself into those items which can be put into almost immediate operation and a long range plan covering several years.

JUDICIAL REFORM

In view of its importance to the people it seems to me high time that the functioning of the judicial branch be improved. A successful effort, however, is going to require real understanding and cooperation.

Pending ratification of the Judicial Article there are other matters affecting the judicial system which should receive attention. Additional judges should be provided in those districts such as the state capital where an increased docket demands such action. The salary scale of county judges is in need of upward adjustment.

ELECTIONS

I have consistently recommended broadening the voting franchise and other improvements in election procedure. As a result the previous session of the legislature extended the absentee voting privilege to citizens prevented by illness from attending the polling place. From all reports the new system has been well received and has worked out satisfactorily in actual practice.

There are other changes which seem desirable in the light of present day conditions. Is it too much to ask that our citizens of 18 years who are called upon to bear arms for the common defense should not have some expression of opinion on the policies of their government? The young people of today are better informed on public questions than at any other period of our history. They are interested in progress and eager to assume their responsibilities in the community.

It would appear, too, that an increasing number of citizens are prevented from voting by the operation of residence requirements laid down in 1870. These qualifications of age and residence are embodied in the constitution and changes would require approval by the voters.

I renew my request for action on moving the date of the primary in order to lessen the length and costs of election campaigns. There is definite evidence of the trend nationally in this direction. For instance, both major political parties held their national conventions a month later in this election year just past.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

You have noted the increasing number of changes required in the constitution to modernize procedures and meet new conditions. Naturally, some of these amendments are of greater magnitude than others, but all deserve serious consideration. I recommend that in addition to any immediate improvements which may be submitted for the people's approval that an opportunity be given for the calling of a constitutional convention.

PERSONNEL

The newly organized Department of Personnel has been making a careful study of working conditions and pay scales. Next month its recommendations on reclassification of positions should be ready for presentation to you.

Let me say that the loyalty and devotion to duty of the great majority of the state's employees deserves recognition at this time. Furthermore, the good of the state service requires better salaries and improvements in the pension system.

MUNICIPAL PROBLEMS COMMISSION

The rapid growth of our cities has brought manifold problems concerning their own services and relations with adjacent territories. I recommend that a permanent Municipal Problems Commission be established and staffed to operate on a continuous basis. We have seen what outstanding results have stemmed from such an arrangement in the field of school problems.

In the related field of county government severe problems are also arising. It may well be that a special study committee on county functions and organization be considered at this time.

CONCLUSION

I enter this second term as your chief executive with undiminished determination to stand for that which is right and good for the well being and happiness of all of our people. May Almighty God grant us the wisdom and the strength to make our common efforts successful.

WHEREAS, during both the Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth General Assemblies numerous proposals for amendment of the Judicial Article of the Illinois Constitution were considered but no agreement could be reached as to just what should be included in such a proposal; and

WHEREAS, in order to make effective the provision of our constitution which states that every person "ought to obtain, by law, right and justice freely, and without being obliged to purchase it, completely and without denial, promptly, and without delay", there is almost complete agreement that some manner of judicial reform is not only desirable but necessary; and

WHEREAS, since resolutions to amend the Judicial Article are certain to be introduced in the Seventieth General Assembly, it is highly desirable that a measure be proposed on which there can be some degree of unanimity; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly, the Senate concurring herein, That there is created a committee consisting of 7 members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker thereof and 7 members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Committees thereof, for the purpose of preparing a draft of an amendment or amendments to Article VI of the State Constitution and making recommendations in connection therewith. The committee shall select from its membership a chairman and such other officers as it deems necessary and may employ necessary assistants. The committee shall hold hearings at such places in the State as it deems proper, for the purpose of obtaining advice and suggestions from members of the bench and bar and other interested citizens. The committee shall report to the General Assembly not later than April 15, 1957. The expenses of the committee shall, upon joint approval of the Senate Committee on Contingent Expense and the Speaker of the House of Representatives, be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of joint committees of the Seventieth General Assembly.

WHEREAS, Many diverse studies and plans have been made of some of the phases of the problem and other phases of the problem require legislative initiative and implementation; and,

WHEREAS, The General Assembly should be informed on every phase of the problem; should consider and objectively compare the many studies, plans and ideas for a solution of this problem; and should have recommendations for a basic solution of the problem as a whole; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, that there is created a committee, consisting of ten members of the House of Representatives appointed by the Speaker, with equal representation from each political party, and five members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Committees, to meet and study the mass transportation problem in said metropolitan area; make such research as it deems necessary; consider such studies and plans and ideas as may be obtained from those interested; examine the means of financing the same; and make recommendations of basic policies to indicate what legislative action is most necessary and desirable. The committee shall select from its membership a chairman and such other officers as it deems necessary. The committee shall report its findings and recommendations to this General Assembly not later than April 30, 1957. The expenses of the committee shall, upon joint approval of the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the Senate Committee on Contingent Expenses, be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the Joint Committees of the 70th General Assembly.

WHEREAS, The new destroyer, U. S. S. Bigelow, was christened February 2, 1957 in honor of Elmer Curtis Bigelow; and

WHEREAS, Elmer Curtis Bigelow of Hebron, McHenry County, gave his country his last full measure of devotion by volunteering to put out a fire started by Japanese shell fire in the ammunition magazine of the U. S. S. Fletcher as it was engaged with the enemy during the siege of Corregidor; and

WHEREAS, The valiant efforts of Elmer Curtis Bigelow saved his ship and shipmates from sure death although he himself died as a result of burns; and

WHEREAS, For his unselfishness and great sacrifice Elmer Curtis Bigelow received posthumously his nation's most cherished recognition for heroism, the Congressional Medal of Honor; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we add our humble thanks to Mrs. Verna B. Perry, the mother of Elmer Curtis Bigelow, for her part in developing his strength of character and devotion to duty; that we congratulate Mrs. Perry for the further recognition bestowed on her son's memory in having a warship christened for him; and that as an additional mark of respect for Mrs. Perry and her son, a suitable copy of this resolution be sent to her.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 29

WHEREAS, Investigations of certain aspects of the operations of the office of the Auditor of Public Accounts during the tenure of Orville E. Hodge have been carried out by various agencies of the State and federal government, including the Governor of Illinois, the Illinois Budgetary Commission, the State's Attorney of Sangamon County, the State's Attorney of Cook County, the United States Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois, the United States Attorney for the Southern District of Illinois, the Banking and Currency Committee of the United States Senate and the United States Internal Revenue Service;

WHEREAS, Each of the investigations has been restricted in scope and effect either because of its limited purpose, limited staff facilities or lack of subpoena power;

WHEREAS, The General Assembly has the duty to determine and must know all the facts of the aforesaid operations in order to properly consider and act upon proposals that have already been made for changes in the Constitution and Statutes of the State of Illinois, to determine whether additional changes are necessary, and to pass upon various questions relating to appropriations for the office of Auditor of Public Accounts;

WHEREAS, The House of Representatives has no desire to interfere with the functions of either the Executive Department or the Judicial Department of the Government of the State of Illinois nor to subject any of the persons imprisoned as a result of the Hodge scandal to further harrassment and punishment, but desires only to ascertain all of the necessary facts so that the General Assembly may carry out its constitutional functions and duties; now, therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that a committee consisting of 9 members of this body, not more than 5 of whom shall belong to one political party, be appointed by the Speaker of the House to investigate the ramifications of the defalcations in the Auditor's office, consider the sundry plans for avoiding a repetition of the same, and state their recommendations for legislative action.

REPORT OF THE SPECIAL JOINT COMMITTEE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES AND OF THE SENATE PURSUANT TO H. J. R. 16

Your committee met, as authorized, to consider the various bills dealing with circuit court district boundaries and with the number of circuit court judges in each circuit outside Cook county. On completing its organization, it heard from various persons who had views to present, these numbering both members of the General Assembly and interested citizens. The committee also had a concluding session at which the members freely exchanged views and comments. On the basis of these hearings and deliberations, your committee recommends:

1. The two bills proposing a fourth circuit court judge in the circuit in which the State capital is located (S. B. 30 in the House and H. B. 50 in the Senate) have obvious merit and one or both should be enacted into law.

2. Only three major boundary changes seem desirable and practical at the present time. These can and should be effected by amending S. B. 3 in the House

(now on second reading) so as to retain the boundary changes and circuit number revisions which it proposes while adding the boundary changes and circuit number revisions incorporated in S. B. 33 in the House and in S. B. 25 in the House. Provisions in Senate Bill 3, and the other bills mentioned, which deal with court terms or other miscellaneous matters should be deleted by amendment, and no further amendments should be adopted to Senate Bill 3.

The net effect of the changes covered by this recommendation would be the creation of three additional circuits as follows:

PRESENT	NEW NUMBERS	PROPOSED COUNTIES
3rd Circuit	3 20	Bond, Madison Monroe, Perry, Randolph, St. Clair, Washington
16th Circuit	16 18	DeKalb, Kane, Kendall DuPage
17th Circuit	17 19	Boone, Winnebago Lake, McHenry

3. Your committee further recommends that action on pending bills proposing to lower the population level at which a circuit becomes entitled to four rather than three judges be deferred until after the action recommended above has been completed in the General Assembly and that these other bills then be considered on their individual merits.

Respectfully submitted, for the committee
(Signed) Hugh Green, Chairman

ARTICLE VI
JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

Section 1. Courts.

The judicial power is vested in a Supreme Court, an Appellate Court and Circuit Courts.

Section 2. Administration.

General administrative authority over all courts in this State, including the temporary assignment of any judge to a court other than that for which he was selected, is vested in the Supreme Court and shall be exercised by the Chief Justice in accordance with its rules. The Supreme Court shall appoint an administrative director and staff, who shall serve at its pleasure, to assist the Chief Justice in his administrative duties.

Section 3. Practice and Procedure.

Subject to substantive law, the Supreme Court shall make rules governing practice and procedure in all courts. Subject to such rules, the judges of each district of the Appellate Court and the judges of each circuit may make additional rules governing practice and procedure in their respective courts.

Section 4. Judicial Districts.

The State is divided into three judicial districts. The First Judicial District consists of the county of Cook. The remainder of the State shall be divided by law into two judicial districts of substantially equal population, each of which shall be compact and composed of contiguous counties.

SUPREME COURT

Section 5. Organization.

The Supreme Court shall consist of seven judges, three of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and two each from the Second and Third Judicial Districts. Five judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of four shall be necessary to a decision. The judges of the Supreme Court shall select one of their number to serve as Chief Justice for a term of three years.

Section 6. Jurisdiction.

The Supreme Court may exercise original jurisdiction in cases relating to the revenue, mandamus, prohibition and habeas corpus, such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review, and only appellate jurisdiction in all other cases.

Appeals from the final judgments of circuit courts shall lie directly to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases involving a question arising under the Federal or State Constitution, and (b) from sentences in capital cases. The Supreme Court has exclusive authority to provide by rule for appeal in other cases from the circuit courts directly to the Supreme Court.

Appeals from the Appellate Court shall lie to the Supreme Court as a matter of right only (a) in cases in which a question under the Federal or State Constitution arises for the first time in and as a result of the action of the Appellate Court, and (b) upon the certification by a division of the Appellate Court that a case decided by it involves a question of such importance that it should be decided by the Supreme Court. Subject to rules, appeals from the Appellate Court to the Supreme Court in all other cases shall be by leave of the Supreme Court.

APPELLATE COURT

The Appellate Court shall be organized in the three judicial districts. Until otherwise provided by law, the Court shall consist of twenty judges, twelve of whom shall be selected from the First Judicial District and four each from the Second and Third Judicial Districts. The Supreme Court shall have authority to assign additional judges to service in the Appellate Court from time to time as the business of the Court requires. There shall be such number of divisions, of not less than three judges each, as the Supreme Court shall prescribe. Assignments to divisions shall be made by the Supreme Court. The majority of a division shall constitute a quorum and the concurrence of a majority of the division shall be necessary to a decision of the Appellate Court. There shall be at least one division in each district and each division shall sit at times and places prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court.

Section 8. Jurisdiction.

In all cases, other than those appealable directly to the Supreme Court, appeals from final judgments of a Circuit Court lie as a matter of right to the Appellate Court in the district in which the Circuit Court is located. The Supreme Court shall provide by rule for expeditious and inexpensive appeals. The Appellate Court may exercise such original jurisdiction as may be necessary to the complete determination of any cause on review. The Supreme Court may provide by rule for appeals to the Appellate Court from other than final judgments of the Circuit Court. The Appellate Court shall have such powers of direct review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

CIRCUIT COURTS

Section 9. Judicial Circuits.

The State shall be divided into judicial circuits each consisting of one or more counties. The county of Cook shall constitute a judicial circuit and the judicial circuits within the Second and Third Judicial Districts, respectively, shall be as established from time to time by law. Any judicial circuit composed of more than one county shall be compact and of contiguous counties.

Subject to the authority of the Supreme Court, the Chief Judge shall have general administrative authority in the court, including authority to provide for divisions, general or specialized, and for appropriate times and places of holding court. The Supreme Court by rule may limit or define the matters to be assigned to magistrates.

Upon application of any county, the Circuit Court may by order designate such number of special magistrates as the court deems necessary in such county, to serve at its pleasure, with power to take such emergency action in civil or criminal cases as the Supreme Court may by rule prescribe. Special magistrates shall not be subject to the provisions of Sections 17, 18 and 19 of this Article, except that they shall be citizens of this State. Their compensation, if any, shall be fixed and paid by the county.

Section 10. Jurisdiction.

The Circuit Court shall have unlimited original jurisdiction of all justiciable matters, and such powers of review of administrative action as may be provided by law.

SELECTION AND TENURE

Section 11. Selection of Judges.

Judges of the several courts shall be elected at general elections by the voters in the appropriate judicial districts, circuits, counties and units for full terms by the procedure or procedures, and vacancies shall be filled for the remainder of unexpired terms by the method or methods, prescribed from time to time by law. In the event a majority of the voters voting on the question at the general election in November, 1960 approve the provisions governing selection of judges set forth in Paragraph 15 of the Schedule to this Article, judges of the several courts shall be selected in accordance with such provisions.

Section 12. Retention in Office.

Not less than six months prior to the general election next preceding the expiration of his term of office, any judge selected for a full term may file in the office of the Secretary of State a declaration of candidacy to succeed himself, and the Secretary of State, not less than 61 days prior to the election, shall certify such candidacy to the proper election officials. At the election the name of each judge who has filed such a declaration shall be submitted to the voters, on a special judicial ballot without party designation, on the sole question whether he shall be retained in office for another term. The elections shall be conducted in the appropriate judicial districts, circuits, counties and units. The affirmative votes of a majority of the voters voting on the question shall elect him to the office for another term commencing the first Monday in December following the election. Any judge who does not file a declaration within the time herein specified, or, having filed, fails of re-election, shall vacate his office at the expiration of his term, whether or not his successor, who shall be selected for a full term pursuant to Section 11 of this Article, shall yet have qualified.

Any law reducing the number of judges of the Appellate Court in any Judicial District or the number of circuit or associate judges in any circuit shall be without prejudice to the right of judges in office at the time of its enactment to seek retention in office as hereinabove provided.

Section 13. Referenda.

The General Assembly may from time to time by law propose changes in or substitutions for any of the provisions of Sections 11 and 12 of this Article, but no such law or amendment thereof shall go into effect unless approved by a majority of the voters voting upon the question at the general election next following its enactment.

Such commission shall be convened by the Chief Justice upon order of the Supreme Court or at the request of the Senate.

The provisions of the Election Code shall govern the conduct of the election. If a majority of voters voting on the question vote in favor of the proposition the selection of judges shall be governed by the following provisions:

SELECTION OF JUDGES

The office of any judge shall be deemed vacant upon his death, resignation, removal, retirement, or failure to be retained in office pursuant to Article VI, Section 12 of the Constitution. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the office of a judge, the office shall be filled upon approval by the voters at a general election of a candidate nominated and submitted as hereinafter provided. When an incumbent does not file a declaration within the time specified in Article VI, Section 12, of the Constitution, the selection of his successor shall proceed in anticipation of the vacancy. Whenever an additional judge is authorized by law, the office shall be filled in the same manner as a vacancy.

(a) Declaration of Vacancy and Time of Election. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall promptly certify to the Secretary of State the existence of a vacancy in the office of judge, and the Secretary of State shall promptly give notice of the vacancy to the appropriate judicial nominating commission. Where the vacancy occurs more than 120 days prior to a general election it shall be filled at that election; where less time intervenes, the vacancy shall be filled at the succeeding general election.

(b) Nomination and Certification. For each vacancy to be filled, the appropriate judicial nominating commission shall nominate a candidate for submission to the voters at the general election. The nomination may be made only by the concurrence of a majority of the authorized membership of the commission and shall be certified to the Secretary of State over the signature of the chairman not less than 78 days prior to such election. The certificate of nomination shall be a public record. The name of the nominee for each vacancy to be filled shall be certified by the Secretary of State to the proper election officials not less than 61 days prior to the election.

The candidacy shall be submitted on a special judicial ballot without party designation on the sole question, "Shall be elected to the office of judge (associate judge) of the court?" The affirmative votes of a majority of the voters voting on the question shall elect him to the office for a term commencing the first Monday in December following the election.

(d) Emergency Selection. Whenever the Supreme Court determines that the continuation of a vacancy in the office of judge until the next general election will cause serious inconvenience in the administration of justice, the vacancy shall be filled for such interim period in the manner provided by law.

(2) Judicial Nominating Commissions.

(a) Appointments and Qualifications. There shall be a judicial nominating commission in each circuit one-half of whose members shall be licensed attorneys appointed by the Supreme Court, and one-half persons other than licensed attorneys appointed by the Governor. All the members shall be citizens of this State and residents of the circuit. Appointments shall be made in such a manner that no more than half the licensed attorneys and no more than half the persons not licensed attorneys shall be members of the same political party. No member of a commission shall hold any office or position of profit under the United States or this State or any municipal corporation or political subdivision of this State, or any official position in a political party, or be eligible to succeed himself in office, to receive compensation for his services, or for designation as a candidate for judicial office during the term for which he is chosen.

(b) Terms of Office. In making appointments to the initial commission in each circuit, the Supreme Court and the Governor shall divide their respective appointees into three groups no more than half the members of each of which shall be members of the same political party, and shall designate one such group to serve two years, one to serve four years, and one to serve six years. Thereafter, the terms of all members of the commission shall be six years, except that the appropriate appointing power shall fill vacancies on the commission for the remainder of unexpired terms.

(c) Membership and Duties. The commission in Cook County shall consist of 24 members, who shall make nominations for the Circuit, Appellate and Supreme Courts. The commission in each of the other circuits shall consist of 12 members, who shall make nominations for the Circuit Court. Each commission in circuits other than Cook County shall choose two of their number, one licensed attorney and one member not a licensed attorney, senior in service on the commission and not of the same political party, to meet with the two members so chosen in each other such circuit within the Judicial District, to constitute the judicial nominating commission for the Judicial District to make nominations for the Appellate and Supreme Courts.

The Chief Judge of the Circuit Court shall preside at meetings of the circuit nominating commission of his judicial circuit convened to designate a candidate to fill a vacancy in the office of judge of the Circuit Court. The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall preside at meetings of nominating commissions convened to designate a candidate to fill a vacancy in the Supreme or Appellate Court. Such presiding officer shall not be entitled to vote except in case of a tie.

(d) Administration. The Supreme Court shall make rules to enforce appropriate action by the commissions. Members of commissions shall be entitled to reimbursement for necessary expenses, and the General Assembly shall appropriate funds to the Supreme Court for such reimbursements and for the other administrative expenses of the commissions.

The provisions hereof shall become effective January 1, 1961.

Messrs. Dixon, Scariano, Downey, Svalina, Fary, Wilson, Mikva, Simon and Scott offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 39

WHEREAS, The Territory of Alaska has again requested to be admitted to the Union as one of the United States of America; and

WHEREAS, The Territory of Alaska, since its purchase in 1867, has been greatly developed and has steadily progressed economically, politically and socially, and has become an integral factor in the development, defense and protection of the United States as a world power and the ambassador of peace; and

WHEREAS, This vast territory, which is approximately one-fifth the size of the United States, is rich not only in material resources but also in the spirit of courage, determination and freedom which fostered the United States of America, and has proven itself capable of assuming the duties and responsibilities of statehood; and

WHEREAS, The people of Alaska, through their tireless, unselfish and far-sighted efforts in the development of Alaska have more than earned the advantages and privileges of statehood; and

WHEREAS, One of the principal objections to Alaska's admission to statehood has been the distance separating Alaska and the United States; and

WHEREAS, Modern advances in transportation and communication have so reduced this distance, that, considering this distance as time necessary to travel from the United States to Alaska, or to communicate between these two points, Alaska is much nearer to the capitol of the United States than were many of the present states at the time they were admitted to the Union; and

WHEREAS, Denying the status of statehood to Alaska seriously hampers and impedes the growth and development of this Territory, works an injustice to the people of Alaska, denies to them the proper representation and voice in the government of their Territory, and prevents this Territory from taking its proper place as a member of the United States of America; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that this House recognize that Alaska has all the necessary prerequisites for statehood and that Alaska should be admitted into the Union; that we respectfully request the Congress of the United States to approve Alaska's request for statehood; and that a suitable copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to United States Senators Paul Douglas and Everett Dirksen and to the members of the House of Representatives of the United States from this state.

WHEREAS, These decisions and decrees of the United States Supreme Court and various Federal Courts have been condemned as a usurpation of and encroachment on the reserved powers of the states by the Supreme Court and central government of the United States; and

WHEREAS, The decisions and decrees of the United States Supreme Court and various Federal Courts are being condemned, disregarded and evaded both directly and indirectly by state legislation, procrastination in complying with said decisions and decrees, coercion and intimidation, all under the theory that any State has a right to interpose its sovereignty in opposition to an exercise of power by the Federal government which that state determines has not been granted by the several states to the Federal government; and

WHEREAS, All the states of the United States are bound by the Constitution and laws of the United States, including judicial interpretation of said Constitution and laws, until later changed through Constitutional processes; and

WHEREAS, The Constitution of the United States provides the manner in which said Constitution and laws of the United States are to be enacted, amended or repealed; and

WHEREAS, The Constitution of the United States does not permit any state to act in total disregard of any Federal law, court decision or decree when the state has through an assumption of unconstitutional powers declared that any said law, decree or decision is unconstitutional; and

WHEREAS, To permit each state to decide of itself by which provision of the United States Constitution, law, judicial decree or decision it shall be bound would eventually result in the destruction of the Federal system of government; be it therefore

Resolved, By the Senate of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the House of Representatives concurring herein, that the United States of America is founded upon the principle that everyone is entitled to equal privileges, opportunities, rights, duties and immunities regardless of race, color, religion or national origin, and any public facility which segregates or discriminates against any person because of race, color, religion or national origin is contrary to said principle; and be it further

11:30 O'CLOCK A.M.

The hour having arrived, the time heretofore fixed by joint resolution adopted by the House of Representatives and the Senate, at which the two Houses meet in joint session in the hall of the House of Representatives, for the purpose of hearing a message from the Governor in regard to traffic safety.

The Senate, preceded by its President pro tempore and Secretary, appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives and, by direction of the Speaker, took the seats assigned them.

The two Houses being convened in joint session, the President pro tempore of the Senate announced that a quorum of the Senate was present.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives announced that a quorum of the House was present.

A majority of each House of the General Assembly being present, the Speaker of the House, as presiding officer of the joint session, announced that the Joint Assembly was duly formed.

Mr. Lewis offered the following resolution and moved its adoption:

JOINT SESSION RESOLUTION NO. 2

Resolved, That a committee of six be appointed, three from the House, by the Speaker of the House, and three from the Senate, by the Committee on Committees of the Senate, to wait upon His Excellency, Governor William G. Stratton, and invite him to address the Joint Assembly.

And the resolution was adopted.

The President pro tempore of the Senate announced the appointment of such committee on the part of the Senate, Miss Schlagenhauf, Messrs. McClory and Smith.

The Speaker of the House of Representatives appointed as such committee on the part of the House, Messrs. Robbins, Hunter and Craig.

The committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor William G. Stratton, appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives, accompanied by the Governor, who, after being presented to the Joint Assembly, delivered a message, as follows:

No message I bring this 70th General Assembly can have more significance to the well-being of all the people than the proposals I will make today.

We Americans are literally killing ourselves on our highways. Last year the toll of death across the nation was 40,000 and this year it threatens to be greater. Tragically, each year the carnage is worse. To do nothing about it is contrary to the compelling drive we in America have to better ourselves, to improve our condition of life. Similar neglect in any other field, failure to correct such a tragic situation in any other area of governmental responsibility would be unthinkable.

I propose that we do something about it.

Here in Illinois we can, if you please to do so, be proud of the fact that our 1956 death record on the roads and streets was three per cent less than in 1955, in the face of a four per cent national increase. But it is poor advantage to be proud of the fact that we killed only 2,135 in Illinois in 1956.

Only 2,135! That is more deaths in one year than citizens of Illinois suffered in any one year of the Korean War.

That is more people in our morgues and cemeteries than tuberculosis kills in two years.

That is something indeed to be proud of!

Think of this. By midnight tomorrow six citizens of Illinois will be dead in traffic accidents according to the dreadful statistical pattern. One of them may be seated here, or is within reach of my voice. We do not know their names—yet.

But this we do know—they will die because of their own recklessness or carelessness or that of someone else.

Recklessness, carelessness, unconscionable speeds, drunken driving, lack of courtesy on the road, these are sins that must be paid for in the currency of death—in the coin of broken bodies, the shattered stump of a steering wheel crashing through a chest, the head of a loved one thrust through a windshield, the warped body of a child bleeding in the street.

We are killing ourselves, maiming our children, destroying our families. We are doing this in a civilized nation that in every other field prides itself in the care of its citizens, in the protection of its unfortunate.

Our automobiles are safer. Our roads are better. Unfortunately our driving has not improved at the same pace.

This overdriving, this refusal of reason, has a side other than the waste of human life. It is the economic loss.

In 1956, it is estimated, the traffic toll in the nation cost $4,750,000,000. My administration here in Illinois has fought against increased automobile risk insurance rates, but the fight cannot go on in the face of steadily increasing carelessness and irresponsibility. Last year, here in Illinois, the money loss in the traffic toll was estimated at $250,000,000. Bodily injury and property damage loss alone amounted to more than $100,000,000, and traffic accidents in our State caused a wage loss of an estimated $70,000,000.

This too should be considered as part of this overall problem and it affects us all. We all pay insurance premiums.

It is true, certainly, that the indictment of bad, dangerous, driving cannot be spread against all users of our highways. But it is principle that the few must be curbed by law to protect the many.

So it must be with our laws governing use of the highways. We must have laws with teeth in them, and we must enforce those laws.

SPEED

First, as to our speed law. It must have a fundamentally reasonable and proper provision. On that we all agree. But more important, it must be absolute. It must be certain.

I reject any will-o-wisp speed limit based on a Latin phrase—the “Now it is—now it isn’t” principle of “prima facie.”

What does prima facie mean to a driver? Certainly when we speak of educating our drivers we don’t contemplate a course in Latin, or a degree in law.

It is my conviction the General Assembly of Illinois must set a definite, enforceable, speed law. Then our police departments must enforce it.

I propose this formula:

1. An absolute speed limit of 65 miles per hour by day and 55 miles an hour at night for all passenger cars and busses. It is a specious argument to say that only a small percentage of drivers are speeders, and therefore, we should not regard speed as a contributor to highway deaths. Speed compounds the danger and crime of all moving traffic violations. It enhances driving error. I cannot over-emphasize my certainty that the speed limit must be absolute, and enforced.

2. A grant of power to the State Division of Highways to establish higher speed limits, up to 70 miles an hour, for limited access or controlled access roadways. With this must go the concurrent power to the division to limit speeds to less than the 65-55 maximum when special circumstances warrant it. These provisions, incidentally, will adequately care for the special problems of speed in connection with our toll road system.

3. A realistic limit on truck speeds, ranging from 50 miles an hour, day or night, for trucks of more than 8,000 pounds gross weight, to 55 miles an hour for trucks of less than four tons.

4. A rewriting of the laws governing speeds in urban and metropolitan areas. In this I urge close attention to the report of the Illinois Traffic Study Commission in that regard. Attention should be paid to the rights proposed in that report for counties to zone their roads for speeds less than the 65-55 maximum, when necessary.

ENFORCEMENT

Of the three “E’s” in traffic safety—engineering, education and enforcement—experience in other states as well as here in Illinois, particularly in the city of Chicago, has shown that the greatest of these, at this time, is enforcement.

The enforcement problem is two-fold in nature. First, there is the matter of sufficient police. Second, there is the matter of courts.

The first of these resolves itself also into two parts, manpower and efficiency. I repeat here my request made in my inaugural address, that the State police force be doubled to a strength of 1200 of which up to one hundred could be assigned to the toll road system. An adjunct to that, of course, would be a requirement that the toll road commission bear the cost of training, equipping and paying the police assigned to it.

Illinois is ridiculously behind in manning its State police force. Let me give you a few comparisons:

This State has 46 officers to a thousand miles of highway. Compare that with 156 to a thousand miles of highway in California; 120 in Pennsylvania; 109 in New York.

Illinois can claim 16 officers per billion miles of vehicle traffic. In Pennsylvania it is 53; in California it is 37; in New York it is 36.

Let us look at the number of vehicles per officer. In Illinois we have one officer per 6,123 vehicles; in Pennsylvania it is one officer per 1,663; in New York one per 899.

Statistics, I know, are dry. In addition these are embarrassing.

In my budget message next month I will provide for the additional State police I request today. I will provide further for new methods of record keeping and control which are under study and will be placed in operation by administrative order to better our police efficiency.

A second aspect of enforcement is in our courts. In Chicago, a stepped up enforcement program for traffic safety by the police department was coupled with improved court handling of the violations.

The results afford a startling comparison for the rest of the State to consider.

In Chicago, in 1956 there were 411,305 convictions for hazardous moving traffic violations.

In the entire rest of the State, with more than half the population, more than half of the vehicles, thousands of miles more of highway—and incidentally, more traffic deaths—there were only 199,684 convictions.

Study the figures again—411,305 to 199,684.

I have asked the Attorney General to relay through the State Attorneys a check on the action of our police magistrates and justices of the peace to see that they begin to do their duty under the present laws of our State, particularly in reporting convictions under our present driver-license statute which has been so ably administered by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

There is also now in progress a survey of Illinois traffic courts by the American Bar Association, and recommendations forthcoming from them may be embodied in legislation to be introduced later. The problem is closely allied to the general problems of court reform, which are already before these distinguished legislative bodies.

DRUNKEN DRIVING

Illinois has adequate law to curb drunken driving if it is properly enforced and properly judged. It is doubtful, however, that the law now on the books, which requires revocation of a driver license in a case of conviction for driving while intoxicated, is being used to its fullest at the local level.

The added penalty of jail and stiff fines for those who drive after their licenses are revoked, is on the books also. It may be that the solution to this problem lies in court reform, but it lies also with the local enforcement officers, particularly in the smaller communities. There I have learned, some officers are inclined to wink at continued driving by a revoked licensee. I need not comment here on the dereliction of duty such neglect entails. By so favoring one person the officer endangers the lives of scores of innocent persons.

In any case Illinois needs new standards to determine when a person should be charged with this most criminal offense, driving while intoxicated. To this end I urge this session of the General Assembly to enact a system of standards for chemical tests, that the degree of intoxication may be determined with accuracy, and with the backing of Law.

Such standards would protect the innocent as well as detect the guilty.

DRIVER FITNESS

Early in our first administration, Secretary of State Carpentier set 70 years as the age at which a person, to continue to drive, must be reexamined. As the years go by that decision becomes more and more important.

It is more important than ever today, because our people are living longer and retiring earlier. They are driving at more advanced ages and it is needful that at some point in their lives their driving ability, as it is affected by their physical condition, their eyesight, their reactions, be re-tested.

Such a point should not be determined by executive decision, however. It should be a matter of law, and I urge this General Assembly to establish the age of 70 years as the time for an automatic driving re-testing.

There is another factor closely allied. None of us has doubt there are some drivers who are either physically or mentally unequipped to drive an automobile on our public highways.

There are laws now that should prevent such persons from driving. I speak of those afflicted by some disability which might endanger the safety of the general public. The problem is to find such persons. Our driver license examination can not in itself search out all such persons—persons for example who are normal in all outward appearance but might be subject to instability or seizure at a time when such a seizure would contribute to accident and death.

I recommend, then, that later in this session, after a study now underway has progressed, this General Assembly pass a law to require reports by physicians who in the conduct of their profession discover physical or mental disabilities which would render their patients potentially dangerous drivers.

This, I am certain, can be done with no infringement on the high ethics of the medical profession. In fact, encouraging meetings have been held toward this goal with representatives of the leading professional societies of the State.

EDUCATION

The measures I have outlined are, in the main, proposals to attack this dreadful slaughter on our streets and highways now—to bring immediate relief from this race to death.

But we need also to look for long range solutions of our highway traffic toll.

I said earlier in this message that while our engineering has improved, and while we can have better enforcement, our driving often remains hazardous. The road is better. The automobile is better. Perhaps we have neglected the third factor, the driver, the factor most susceptible to improvement, and at least cost. The answer lies in education, not only in the rules of the road, and in matters of safety, but in the technique of safe driving itself. Driver attitude, toward himself, his passengers, other drivers, and pedestrians is a very important phase of this drive for safety.

High school driver training courses appear to be an extremely important approach. Not all the high school students are going to be farmers, housewives, stenographers, or will go to college, nor are all going to be cooks, carpenters, or weavers.

But all, or virtually all, will drive cars. Training in the art of do-it-yourself carpentry is of little concern to anyone but the student himself. Proper driving techniques and attitudes are of concern to everyone.

I have already enunciated plans to increase some of the fees the State charges for its services and licenses, and some of those bills are already before you. I recommend now that the driver license fee be increased to a rate of one dollar a year, with added money to be used in an equitable distribution as State aid to driving courses in the secondary school of the State. Incidentally the national average driver license fee is $1.07 a year. Some states charge more than twice what we are asking.

It is my hope that by the time the budget is prepared we will have figures on costs and income to show just what percentage of the cost of driver education in the schools the State can bear.

Remember, much that we do here must be pointed to the future. It is a characteristic of civilization that it looks to the future. Certainly the future has no more dreadful outlook, barring war itself, than an ever increasing high-way death toll. Education can do much to change that outlook for our children.

It has been my firm duty to recommend these things to you. It is your solemn obligation to consider them well. It must be our determined objective to wipe the blood from our streets and highways. I venture to say that every citizen of our State is, and will be, whole heartedly behind this program.

The General Assembly's interest in this subject is reflected in the fine work of the past by the motor vehicle laws commission.

Let there be no disagreement here in purpose.

There can be no desire on the part of anyone here to perpetuate this high-way butchery.

There must be no delay. There should be no quibbling. We need the tools to end this killing. Forge for us those tools and Illinois will stand as a symbol of a sane highway policy for all the nation to follow. You and I and every citizen in Illinois have a stake in this cause—our lives.

The Governor having completed his message, the committee heretofore appointed escorted him from the hall of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 11:45 a.m., Mrs. O'Neill moved that the Joint Assembly do now rise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session.

The Speaker in the chair.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Mrs. M. E. Green, Messrs. Burhans, Hunter, Martin, McCarthy, Burks,

W. C. Harris, Widmer, McConnell, Carrigan, Saal, Ihnen, Pfeffer, McCully, Manning, Brydia, Beckman, Laufer, Hittmeier and Robbins offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 20

WHEREAS, In recent years, through the efforts of certain national groups, there has developed a strong movement to have the federal government step into or invade the education field, particularly in the area of school construction, on the pretext that the state and local authorities are unable to cope with the school problem, whereas the real reason, therefor, is to remove the whole field of education from the supervision, operation and control of the people of the local communities; and

WHEREAS, Any such movement is objectional upon several grounds among which are:

- (a) High standards of learning in schools can be better accomplished by dependence on and control by the states and individual communities thereof;
 - (b) Federal financing eventually means Federal control and supervision;
 - (c) No state has demonstrated or claimed its inability to meet its school building responsibility;
 - (d) Indebtedness of the Federal government far exceeds that of the states and many states have no deficit whatsoever;
 - (e) No income, except customs, is available to the Federal government that is not available to the states;
 - (f) Federal aid does not lessen the cost of construction but adds a further cost of administration to the school construction program;
 - (g) The United States Office of Education's report (Figures on School Construction and School Enrollment) clearly shows that during the past ten years classroom construction has far exceeded increased enrollment needs;
 - (h) The school districts in the State of Illinois have spent over $5,000,000 for new schools since the end of World War II and plans for additional amounts are well advanced. The intrusion of the Federal government could have a retarding influence on our present statewide accelerated school program.
- WHEREAS, The education Committee of the Commission on Intergovernmental Relations has said:

1. "The American people have built up, over the last century and a half, the greatest school system in the world under state and local responsibility. The public educational system has shown tremendous and consistent progress and proven flexible enough to meet new and greater challenges. We believe that it will continue to do so."

2. "We have not been able to find a state which cannot afford to make more money available to its schools or which is economically unable to support an adequate school system. Federal aid is not necessary either for current operating expenses for public schools or for capital expenditures for school facilities (buildings and classrooms)." (Federal Responsibility in the Field of Education—June, 1955); therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein:

Section 1. That the Congress of the United States be, and it is hereby memorialized to reject any and all efforts to obtain passage of any additional legislation by the terms of which money would be appropriated and made available to the states through grants-in-aid or otherwise for construction of schools and that the matter of school construction continue to be a responsibility of the several states and individual school districts thereof.

Section 2. That the Congress of the United States be, and it is hereby memorialized to cause a survey to be made of the over 285 programs in the field of Education now being financed in whole or in part by the Federal government and administered by approximately 200 different agencies to determine:

- (a) Savings that could be made by a more efficient administration, and
- (b) Programs which should more properly be a responsibility of the states and school districts thereof.

Section 3. That a copy of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to the following:

1. The Honorable Dwight D. Eisenhower, President.
2. Marion B. Folsom, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.
3. All representatives in the United States Senate and House of Representatives.
4. The governors of all other states of these United States.

Messrs. Baker, Clyde Lee, Fitzgerald, Choate, Ratcliffe, J. E. Miller, Powell, McDonald and Kerr offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 21

WHEREAS, The Senate and House of Representatives of the United States are considering legislation known as Area Redevelopment programs, which provide for long term loans or grants in aid to areas of high chronic unemployment for the purpose of establishing long term public aid programs which would provide immediate employment and ultimately develop permanent opportunities for employment in these areas, and increase their economic productivity by the development of the natural resources therein contained; and

WHEREAS, There are certain areas in Illinois which are in dire need of such assistance, especially in the Big Muddy River Watershed in Southern Illinois where the cost of public aid and assistance is extremely high; and

WHEREAS, This State, and especially this Seventieth General Assembly, has expressed grave concern over the high cost of public aid and assistance in this State, and everyone concerned is anxious to find permanent remedies for reducing such costs; and

WHEREAS, This State has already expressed an interest in the development of water resources in this State by creating a committee to study such resources, and by conducting, under the supervision of the Division of Waterways, a study of the feasibility of constructing a reservoir at Rend City on the Big Muddy River; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein, that we respectfully request and recommend that the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States give favorable consideration to the passage of Area Redevelopment programs which would provide aid and assistance to depressed areas through the development of natural resources; and be it further

Resolved, That suitable copies of this preamble and resolution be forwarded to the President of the Senate of the United States, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States and to the Senators and Congressmen representing the State of Illinois in the Congress of the United States, and to every member of the Banking and Currency Committee of the United States Senate.

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 47

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois has declared that the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois is an integral part of the University of Illinois and is a necessary educational institution; and

WHEREAS, The Chicago Undergraduate Division is presently located on Navy Pier, which is leased from the City of Chicago and which site will be required by the City of Chicago for municipal purposes in the near future; and

WHEREAS, It is desirable, and has been recommended by the Commission on Higher Education, that the Chicago Undergraduate Division be established in a permanent location; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois has conducted a preliminary study of the problems incident to the relocation of the Chicago Undergraduate Division and has performed research concerning possible sites for the new location; and

WHEREAS, It is highly probable that bills will be introduced during this Seventieth General Assembly requesting an appropriation for funds to be used in the purchase of a permanent site for the Chicago Undergraduate Division; therefore be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that a Committee be appointed by the Speaker consisting of 5 members of this House, no more than 3 of whom shall be of the same political party. The Committee shall confer with the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois and any person or persons employed by said Board in conducting research regarding the establishment of a permanent site for the Chicago Undergraduate Division of the University of Illinois, for the purpose of determining the extent and the results and findings of any study conducted by the Board or persons employed by the Board; the problems which the Board has already encountered and the problems to be incurred in relocating the Chicago Undergraduate Division; the requirements which any proposed site must meet in order to merit the Board's approval, and the criteria by which the Board determines the desirability of any site; the sites which the Board has found to be satisfactory as a permanent location for the Chicago Undergraduate Division, including the Board's order of preference for such sites and the reasons therefor; and the sites which the Board has found to be undesirable and the reasons therefor.

The Committee may also obtain information from the officials of Cook County and the City of Chicago regarding their actions either independently or in conjunction with the Board of Trustees in attempting to establish a permanent location for the Chicago Undergraduate Division, including any proposals, recommendations or objections said officials may have in regard to such relocation.

The Committee may also obtain such information it deems appropriate regarding the relocation of the Chicago Undergraduate Division from any other persons, organizations or governmental agencies which are possessed of such information.

The Committee shall also determine the manner in which the General Assembly might assist the Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois in acquiring a permanent site for the Chicago Undergraduate Division, and the Committee may also give such aid or assistance to the Board as the Board may request; and, be it further

Resolved, That since a state of emergency exists, this House seriously recommend and urge that immediate action be taken by officials and friends of the University to select a permanent site, so that the selection of this site will not be delayed for another two years.

The Committee shall report its findings and recommendations to this House as soon as possible, but not later than April 30, 1957.

The expenses of the Committee shall, upon approval of the Speaker, be paid from the appropriation for the expenses of the Committees of the House of Representatives.

GENERAL RESOLUTIONS

The House proceeding on the order of general resolutions, Messrs. Sakowicz, McAvoy and Derwinski offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 53

WHEREAS, March 29, 1957, marks the 75th anniversary of the Knights of Columbus, for on that day in 1882 the General Assembly of the State of Connecticut granted the first charter to the fraternal society of the Knights of Columbus and thereby fulfilled the dream of Rev. Michael J. McGivney to unite Catholic men in a society founded upon the ideals of their faith; and

WHEREAS, In designating a name for this society, the founders selected "Knights of Columbus" in honor of the Catholic discoverer of America and to emphasize the fact that Catholics played a most important role in the discovery, exploration and colonization of the North American Continent, and the founders further felt that this society should embody Knightly ideals of service to church, country and fellow-man; and

WHEREAS, The purposes of the Knights of Columbus — to render pecuniary aid to its members and beneficiaries of members; to render mutual aid and assistance to its sick and disabled members; to promote such social and cultural intercourse among its members as shall be desirable and proper; and to promote and conduct educational, charitable, religious, social welfare, war relief and welfare and public relief work — are being continuously fulfilled is abundantly proven by the society's record of accomplishments; and

WHEREAS, More than $100,000,000 in benefits has been paid to widows, children and other dependents of members of this society, and more than $7,000,000 has been paid to living members of the society to lighten the burden of their twilight years; and

WHEREAS, The Knights of Columbus has actively conducted a program for the care and education of youth and has contributed large sums of money for educational and recreational facilities, scholarships to various schools and colleges, orphanages and other homes and schools for the education, care and medical treatment of countless numbers of young people, thereby enabling them to receive the benefits of higher education and to enjoy a more healthy, happy and wholesome life; and

WHEREAS, Since its very beginning this society has taken full advantage of its opportunities to practice charity through its contributions of money, aid and assistance to persons suffering from the tragedies of war and disaster all over the world, regardless of religious faith or social affiliation; and

WHEREAS, The Knights of Columbus is justly proud of its contributions to the fighting men of this and other countries in time of war through the establishment of social and recreational centers and facilities all over the world for men of all races, creeds and nationalities, by assisting in obtaining chaplains to minister to their religious needs, and in many other ways attempting to lighten the burdens of these fighting men; and

WHEREAS, In keeping with its policy of militantly opposing the encroachment of atheistic doctorines which would destroy religion and undermine the ideals upon which our democratic form of government is founded, the Knights of Columbus has, for many years, maintained a vigorous and continuous campaign against communist philosophy which deprives men of soul, faith, conscience and morality, and which would destroy our free institutions and undermine our principles of civil and religious liberty; and

WHEREAS, Today the Knights of Columbus is an organized, functioning society in every state of the United States, in the ten provinces of Canada, in Alaska, the Canal Zone, Puerto Rico, Mexico, Cuba and the Philippine Islands, with a membership of over 920,000 men who combine the lofty principles of their society with positive and practical action; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that this House, on behalf of the people of the State of Illinois, commend and congratulate the Knights of Columbus on the observance of their 75th anniversary; that we extend to them our wish for many more years of successful fulfillment of their worthwhile purposes; and that a suitable copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded to the Supreme Knight and to the State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 57

WHEREAS, In the true spirit of their namesake, the Tigers of Herrin Township High School invaded the basketball court of Huff Gymnasium and emerged victorious as the king of high school basketball in this State; and

WHEREAS, Although somewhat handicapped by a lack of height, the Tigers took full advantage of their indomitable courage and determination to overpower the finest teams in the annual high school State tournament and to bring the first State basketball championship to the school and city they so ably represented; and

WHEREAS, This victory symbolizes not only the winning of the basketball crown, but also is a fitting tribute and reward to the skill and perseverance of the members of the team, the inspiring leadership of their coach, Mr. Earl Lee, and the spirit of the Herrin high school; and

WHEREAS, Throughout their entire basketball season, the Tigers have exhibited true sportsmanship and all the fine qualities of a real champion; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we commend and congratulate the members of this championship team, their coach, Mr. Earl Lee, and the entire student body of Herrin Township High School, for their great success in winning the State basketball championship; and, be it further

Resolved, That a suitable copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the principal of the Herrin high school, to the coach, Mr. Earl Lee and to every member of the team.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Messrs. Saal, Carrigan, Ratcliffe, Burhans, Shade, Grebe and Scott offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 58

WHEREAS, In one of the most thrilling finals in the 20 year history of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament, the Braves of Bradley University overcame a 10 point second half lead and defeated Memphis State to gain the championship of the N.I.T.; and

WHEREAS, In winning this tournament the Braves displayed the qualities of a real championship team by setting a three game team scoring record and in overcoming a 21 point lead to defeat Xavier of Ohio in the quarterfinals; and

WHEREAS, The winning of this tournament constitutes a fitting climax and tribute to the ability, determination and spirit of the members of the team, and the fine leadership of their coach, Mr. Chuck Osborn; and

WHEREAS, The Bradley Braves have brought honor and recognition not only to their school, but also to this entire State; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that we express our sincere congratulations to Bradley University, to the members of the team and to their coach, Mr. Chuck Osborn; and that a suitable copy of this preamble and resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the university, to each member of the team and to their coach.

And the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Mr. Horsley offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION No. 24

WHEREAS, There has been in the past and is still continuing, a trend in the United States Congress toward centralization of Federal Government and more particularly a large increase in the number of programs of grants by the Federal Government to the states of certain monies for various programs based, in many instances, upon the State matching Federal funds equally or on some other basis; and

WHEREAS, Such programs have resulted in the citizens of the State of Illinois being required to contribute approximately $2.00 for every dollar received in such Federal grants in addition to being required to raise additional monies to match such Federal grants; and

WHEREAS, If this trend continues, the states will loose more and more control over problems of a local nature resulting in needless expenditures of monies; and

WHEREAS, The legislatures of the states are powerless to act in this matter unless legislation is first enacted by the Congress eliminating or reducing these programs; therefore, be it and it is hereby

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the State of Illinois, the Senate concurring herein,: (1) That the Congress of the United States be memorialized to embark upon a program of legislative action in an effort to reverse this trend, thereby reducing such programs of grants to states with a corresponding reduction in tax collections. (2) That the Congress of the United States be further memorialized to initiate legislation to return the control of such programs to the states so that they may be handled by the states. (3) That suitable copies of this resolution be forwarded by the Secretary of State to the President of the United States and the Members of Congress from the State of Illinois.

Mr. Lewis moved that when the House adjourns today it stand adjourned until 9:30 o'clock a.m. tomorrow.

A majority of each House of the General Assembly being present, the Speaker of the House declared the joint session duly formed.

JOINT SESSION RESOLUTION NO. 3

Resolved, That a joint committee of ten be appointed, five from the House by the Speaker thereof, and five from the Senate, by the Committee on Committees of the Senate, to wait upon His Excellency, Governor William G. Stratton, and invite him to appear before the Joint Assembly to deliver his budget message in person.

And the resolution was adopted.

The President of the Senate announced the appointment as members of such committee on the part of the Senate, Messrs. Burt, Crisenberry, Peterson, Lynch and O'Brien.

The Speaker of the House announced the appointment as members of such committee on the part of the House, Messrs. Harbeck, Janczak, Moberley, Armstrong and Loughran.

The committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor William G. Stratton, appeared in the hall of the House of Representatives, accompanied by the Governor, who, after being presented to the General Assembly, delivered his biennial budget message, in person, as follows:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President and the Honorable Members of the Seventieth General Assembly:

It is my duty by law to offer for your consideration at this time the budgetary needs of the State government for the two year period beginning July 1. In addition, today it is my pleasant opportunity to report to you that the needs of the State and its citizens, and the progressive program of construction and governmental reform by this administration, can be carried forward with no increase in general taxes.

As I reported to you two years ago at this time, the budget on which we are now operating was based on a policy of holding down costs of administrative agencies wherever possible, and to allow modest increases only in cases where it was obvious that necessary services to the public could not be maintained otherwise. The reward of that policy is evident today. As a result of careful planning and good management, the budget I present to you today can be balanced without new general taxes and with no curtailment in State services or activities.

Actually it is a budget balance in two ways. First it matches resources with expenditures, an elementary requirement. Secondly it balances the State's needs, and it gives to every need the weight that service or function possesses on the budgetary scale.

Obviously, there are practical limits below which there can be no reduction in governmental cost if services are to be continued on the basis of true need. And just as apparent is the fact that such a budget can possess no fat, no frills, regardless of the constant pressures to increase spending in some categories.

While such a budget must hold the line, it must at the same time guarantee continued service to the people. It requires careful pruning of requests to bring them within true need. As in the past it will demand a vigilant veto pen to guard the budgeted amounts from additions which sometimes seem enticing, but are beyond our means.

We have built here that kind of budget for your attention.

In order to operate all the departments of the State government, including the legislative and judicial agencies, and to carry on the various aid and grant programs, the new budget will require $1,541,037,671 in the 70th biennium. The General Revenue Fund provides $866,934,494 of this amount compared to $809,063,390.88 in the current budget. The Federal contribution is up to $189,290,680 from $169,126,494. The remainder, consisting principally of the Motor Fuel Tax, Road, and Bond Retirement Funds, comes to $484,812,497 as against $408,430,975.80 previously.

The chief increases in operations and grants are accounted for by needs in education, mental health, and highway safety. These fields will be dealt with individually in following sections of the message.

The recommendation for capital outlay from all funds totals $581,093,840. Although a substantial program for buildings at the institutions of higher learning has been maintained, new construction from the General Revenue Fund is reduced from the present $50,553,516 to $33,963,500 or roughly the 68th biennial level. The bond issue now before you will make possible a stepped up program to meet expanding future needs of the mental hospitals and colleges.

The main increase in capital outlay—and in fact in the budget itself—is made possible through the greatly enlarged Federal road program allotments. Including the $70,000,000 authorization given in advance this session, the amount available from the Road Fund for the highway construction is $532,892,183 compared to $250,650,260 in the 69th period.

Other funds supporting the principal capital projects will be discussed in more detail in the sections on Welfare, Conservation and Highways.

The addition of capital outlay to operations brings the total budget to $2,122,131,511 in contrast to $1,698,040,214.68 in the present biennium.

The previous session of the General Assembly authorized creation of a new Department of Personnel and gave it the responsibility to establish a fairer and more modern system of employee classification. The results of the Personnel Department's comprehensive survey of jobs and wages in both private industry and government throughout Illinois, as well as comparable states, furnish a sound basis for a new pay plan for the State's many underpaid employees. This plan not only concerns itself with the benefits to the worker himself, but looks forward to greatly enhanced service to the public and a better return for the taxpayer's dollar.

It is estimated that $17,500,000 from General Revenue Funds will be necessary to make the new program effective over the period of the next two years. This additional expenditure spread throughout the various administrative departments will make the General Revenue operating budget stand at $884,434,494, and the overall budget $2,139,631,511.

Since the effective date for use of appropriations is the close of the biennium, it becomes necessary to reappropriate for projects or purposes committed beyond that time. These reappropriations are not coming from ensuing revenues (having already been provided for in the present biennium) and technically are not part of the new budget, being, rather, holdovers from the old. However, for book-keeping purposes, these reauthorizations should be added to the actual new budget figure.

Reappropriations for operations, aids and grants amount to $72,379,271 and for capital, the figure is $32,080,568. The total reappropriation of $104,459,839 when added to the new budget makes a grand total of $2,244,091,350.

I am happy to recommend to you that no increase in the Retailer's Occupation Tax is necessary to support the proposed budget. It is expected that the return from this largest General Revenue Fund source will remain steady at slightly under the rate of collections for this biennium. A conservative estimate would be $536,000,000.

Now that litigation has been cleared up, revenue from the Use Tax should increase about $4,000,000 over the $20,600,000 received in the 69th biennium. The other receipts into the General Revenue Fund should show no appreciable change from the present biennium.

Despite the rise in costs of public assistance, welfare and correctional institutions which necessitated rather heavy deficiency appropriations, the general revenue balance to start the 70th biennium is better than at the beginning of the 69th.

It is estimated that $860,300,000 will be available from revenues for general purposes plus $63,100,000 balance in the fund. The total resources of $923,400,000 in the General Revenue Fund support the budget with somewhat over $5,000,000 to spare.

The largest share by far of the increases recommended from the General Revenue Fund goes for educational purposes. This statement applies equally well to operations, grants and capital outlay. As a matter of fact, the $62,669,065 increase for education exceeds by nearly four million dollars the entire general revenue increase of $58,781,088.

This tremendous financial support is recommended to meet the pressing need for both enlarging and improving educational opportunities. These added funds are about equally divided between the common schools and the institutions of higher learning.

The Common School Fund is increased to $225,000,000. This amount is nearly $31,000,000 more than actually used from the present appropriation of $201,076,850. For the first time a State fund is created to meet the problem brought about by those districts whose needs for new classrooms have outrun their bonding power. A total of $10,000,000 should serve to launch this new program enabling these districts in Illinois to solve their building demands—without Federal aid, I may add.

The principal increases for higher education have to do with expansion and more adequate pay for the teaching staffs. The costs of maintaining enlarged facilities to serve a growing student population must be met. But of vital concern is our ability to retain and attract outstanding personnel.

An increase of $8,940,605 is recommended in the operating budget for the Department of Welfare. The $127,166,500 requested will provide sorely needed extra doctors and nurses as well as match rising costs for food and drugs. Furthermore, this department will be allotted more than half of the $17,500,000 in the new pay plan. Including nearly $1,000,000 additional from special funds, the total available for Welfare operations will exceed this biennium by over $20,000,000 or an increase of more than 15 per cent.

Augmenting the funds already appropriated in the present biennium for two new mental hospitals now under construction will be $6,297,400 from the Mental Health Fund and $1,500,000 from General Revenue. This $7,797,400 will provide for a new Retarded Children's Research Hospital and other improvements.

Appropriations for the present biennium are the basis for the $316,520,000 recommendation for the several Public Aid programs. However, I am firmly convinced that legislation resulting from the inquiry now being so vigorously conducted by the legislative commission will have the effect of reducing the above figure by more than 10 per cent. Actually some of these changes will show a more marked influence on the budget for the 71st biennium than on the one we are now considering.

An appropriation of $644,734,518 will be needed for the operation of the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works and Buildings. Of this amount, $638,964,543 will be from the Road Fund, $2,410,075 from the Motor Fuel Tax Fund, and $3,359,900 from the Garage Revolving Fund.

The large increase in the appropriation for highways will be used almost entirely for construction and results from the enactment of the 1956 Federal-aid Highway Act. Because highway construction is a continuing program, a part of the construction appropriation will be in the nature of a reappropriation for payments on contracts which were awarded during the 69th biennium but which cannot be completed until some time during the 70th biennium.

To carry out the construction program made possible by the additional Federal funds will also require a larger appropriation for administration and engineering, a cost which is proportional to the size of the construction program. Appropriations for other items are not materially increased over the 69th biennium.

The haunting spectacle of thousands of our citizens lying dead or seriously injured on our highways urges my recommendation for $19,056,160 from the Road Fund to the Division of State Police. This increase of $7,855,840 will provide 500 more officers and the necessary supporting services to give better protection to the public. Also it is desirable to authorize an additional 100 men to be assigned to the Toll Road Commission and paid for from the toll system's revenues.

A continuation of the policy to provide more adequate outdoor facilities for hunter and fisherman as well as healthful recreation for the whole family is represented in the recommendation for conservation and parks. An amount of $7,023,500 will be needed in capital outlay to carry out this improvement program. Nearly half of this amount will be supplied from the Game and Fish Fund as a tangible benefit to the public from the recent one dollar increase in hunting and fishing license fees. The remaining portion from the General Revenue Fund reveals an increase of just over $1,000,000.

In these ways we have arrived at a budget which satisfies demands, balances the needs of our citizens and holds the line on taxes in these days of rising costs. We have increased allotments where increases are needed. We have at the same time declined requests of nearly half a billion dollars which could not meet the measure of balancing need against the twin problems of cost and resources.

Here we have a budget, carefully conceived, cautiously balanced, and sufficient to meet the problems of a growing, populous, State. It is a source of pride to me, and I know, to you, that we can meet these problems, courageously, efficiently, and completely, in a spirit of cooperation and mutual interest.

The Governor having completed his message, the committee heretofore appointed escorted him from the hall of the House of Representatives.

At the hour of 11:20 o'clock a.m., Senator Schlagenhauf moved that the Joint Assembly do now rise.

And the motion prevailed.

The Senate having withdrawn, the House resumed its session.

The speaker in the chair.

ARTICLE IV

Section 9. The regular sessions of the General Assembly shall commence at 12 o'clock noon, on the Wednesday next after the first Monday in January, in each odd-numbered year; and on the first Monday in February of each even-numbered year. At its regular session in each even-numbered year, the General Assembly shall consider only appropriation bills for existing functions of the State for the succeeding fiscal year, revenue bills directly pertaining and restricted thereto, and bills, motions and resolutions pertaining to the functions of the General Assembly during such session; and shall consider no other matter.

A majority of the members elected to each House shall constitute a quorum. Each House shall determine the rules of its proceedings, and be the judge of the election, returns and qualifications of its members; shall choose its own officers; and the Senate shall choose a temporary president to preside when the lieutenant governor shall not attend as president or shall act as governor. The Secretary of State shall call the House of Representatives to order at the opening of each newly elected General Assembly, and preside over it until a temporary presiding officer thereof shall have been chosen and shall have taken his seat. No member shall be expelled by either House except by a vote of two-thirds of all members elected to that House, and no member shall be twice expelled for the same offense. Each House may punish, by imprisonment, any person not a member, who shall be guilty of disrespect to the House by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence. But no such imprisonment shall extend beyond twenty-four hours at one time, unless the person shall persist in such disorderly or contemptuous behavior.

Section. 16. The General Assembly shall make no appropriation of money out of the treasury in any private law. Bills making appropriations for the pay of members and officers of the General Assembly, and for the salaries of the officers of the government, shall contain no provision on any other subject.

Each regular session of the General Assembly shall provide for all the appropriations necessary for the ordinary and contingent expenses of the government until September 30 following the adjournment of the next regular session, the aggregate amount of which shall not be increased without a vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each House, nor exceed the amount of revenue authorized by law to be raised in such time; and all appropriations, general or special, requiring money to be paid out of the State treasury, from funds belonging to the State, shall end on that date.

Provided, however, that by a vote of two-thirds of the elected membership any regular session may (by so stating in the preamble or body of the bill) make an appropriation available for expenditure until September 30 following the adjournment of the second succeeding regular session.

Section 18. The State may, to meet casual deficits or failures in revenues, contract debts, never to exceed in the aggregate $250,000; and moneys thus borrowed shall be applied to the purpose for which they were obtained, or to pay the debt thus created, and to no other purpose; and no other debt, except for the purpose of repelling invasion, suppressing insurrection, or defending the State in war, (for payment of which the faith of the State shall be pledged), shall be contracted, unless the law authorizing the same shall, at a general election, have been submitted to the people, and have received a majority of the votes cast for members of the General Assembly at such election. The General Assembly shall provide for the publication of said law for three months at least before the vote of the people shall be taken upon the same; and provision shall be made, at the time, for the payment of the interest annually, as it shall accrue, by a tax levied for the purpose or from other sources of revenue; which law, providing for the payment of such interest by such tax, shall be irrevocable until such debt be paid: And, provided, further, that the law levying the tax shall be submitted to the people with the law authorizing the debt to be contracted.

Section 4. The limitations upon the rates of said taxes contained in Sections 2 and 3 shall, however, be subject to the qualification that in the event of a war in which the United States is engaged creating a grave national emergency requiring such action to avoid national disaster, the Congress by a vote of three-fourths of each House may for a period not exceeding one year increase beyond the limits above prescribed the maximum rate of any such tax upon income subsequently accruing or received or with respect to subsequent devolutions or transfers of property, with like power, while the United States is actively engaged in such war, to repeat such action as often as such emergency may require.

Section 5. Sections 1 and 2 shall take effect at midnight on the 31st day of December following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall affect the power of the United States after said date to collect any tax on incomes for any period ending on or prior to said 31st day of December laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect.

Section 6. Section 3 shall take effect at midnight on the last day of the sixth month following the ratification of this article. Nothing contained in this article shall affect the power on any devolution or transfer occurring prior to the taking effect of Section 3, laid in accordance with the terms of any law then in effect; and be it further

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States be, and it hereby is, requested to provide as the mode of ratification that said amendment shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of the Constitution of the United States when ratified by the Legislatures of three-fourths of the several states; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of State be, and he hereby is, directed to send a duly certified copy of this resolution to the Senate of the United States and one to the House of Representatives in the Congress of the United States.

Messrs. Semrow, Noble W. Lee and W. G. Clark offered the following resolution, which was referred to the Executive Committee:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 64

WHEREAS, The problem of inflation is national in scope and poses the danger of destroying our economic system, and with the failure of such system, the nation itself; and

WHEREAS, The scope of the problem is too broad for any one state to solve; and

WHEREAS, The consumer price index has gone up 3.4 points in the past twelve months thus reflecting an additional outlay for living expenses by consumers of 2.5 billion dollars per point; and

WHEREAS, In addition to other causes, the swollen national budget, through increased spending, will result in more inflation; and

WHEREAS, Government spending is a prime cause of inflation in that spending does not increase the nation's productivity, but rather increases demand of raw materials in direct competition with consumer items, and as a result raises the price of said consumer items, making them too costly, or removing them from the market altogether, and further, the taxes that are collected to pay for these expenditures reduce the funds that otherwise would be available to increase productivity, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Seventieth General Assembly of the State of Illinois, that it is the sense of this House that the Congress of the United States should establish a commission to study all aspects of the inflation problem, especially that segment of this problem that effects fixed income groups, widows, pensioners, etc., and those whose pay raises are few and far between and not in keeping with national rise in prices.

That Congress should curtail spending so as to lessen the outlay of money in non-productive channels and that said commission shall make recommendation to the next Congress for means and methods of curbing the inflationary spiral; and that suitable copies of this resolution be sent by the Secretary of State to all members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States.

Messrs. Davis, Carter, Harewood, Wilson, Armstrong, Robinson, Graham and Gardner offered the following resolution and, having asked and obtained unanimous consent to suspend the rules for its immediate consideration, moved its adoption:

HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 65

WHEREAS, Wednesday, April 10, marks the thirty-sixth anniversary of the birth of our friend and colleague, Cecil A. Partee; and

WHEREAS, This fine gentleman, although he has been a member of this House only a few months, has already won the respect and affection of the members of this House; therefore, be it
